Confederate Pensions.

Austin, Texas, September 30.—The available appropriation, for Confederate pensions for the next six months, $100,000, has been apportioned by the comptroller, and the amount for the next two quarters will be $7.40 for each pensioner per quarter.

The pension roll has just had 461 new names added, making a total of 7080 pensioners. Of these there are 208 whose whereabouts are unknown, the majority of whom have not been heard from for a year or more.

In making this apportionment, the number of missing pensioners and the death rate are reckoned on the basis of mortality tables of the leading life insurance companies.

The comptroller will appreciate the kindness if county officers and pensioners will give the office notice of the death of any pensioner immediately after such fact has been ascertained. The apportionment this time is a decrease of 75 cents over the last quarter.

The following notices are being mailed to county judges:

You are hereby notified that the affidavit to "proof of service" in the Confederate army heretofore made a part of the application blanks furnished by this office are not considered by me as sufficient, and not in compliance with or fulfillment of the intention and meaning of the law. Hereafter applications for pensions will not be considered as being in compliance with the law unless accompanied by the written testimony of the witnesses, as taken down by or under the direction of the county judge or the county commissioners.

The affidavit now in use as to "inability of support by labor of any sort" is considered sufficient.

Very respectfully,
R. M. Love, Comptroller.

Goes Like Hot Cakes.

"The fastest selling article I have in my store," writes druggist C. T. Smith, of Davis, Ky., "is Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, because it always cures. In my six years of sales it has never failed. I have known it to save sufferers from Throat and Lung diseases, who could get no help from doctors or any other remedy." Mothers rely on it, best physicians prescribe it, and J. W. Harris guarantees satisfaction or refund price. Trial bottles free. Regular sizes, 50c and $1.

Mrs. M. A. Woodward and daughter, Miss Myrtle, of Coleman, arrived Wednesday morning on a visit to the family of Dr. M. M. Woodward.

HORSE BREAKING.

Ridgill Bros. have retired from the horse business, but still having their corral and first-class apparatus for breaking horses. Have secured the services of Jim Burleson, the old known horse breaker, and will break horses for the public, training them without injury or scars. Will make specialty of training fancy saddle horses and match teams. Will train any horse to ride or work that can be trained, or no charge for the effort. Have worked wild horses on this ranch for three years without a single animal being crippled or killed, and our work for the public will be under the same management. Ranch 20 miles northwest of town.

ARE NOT FOR FULL FEEDING.

Many of Missouri's Cattle Purchasers Will Not Come Back This Winter.

"There will not be many cattle fed in Missouri as you would think from the number of stockers and feeders being shipped out into the state from Kansas City," said a prominent feeder from Warrensburg today. "A great many of the cattle now going to the country will be roughed through the winter and put on grass in the spring and later short-fed for market. There is a world of roughness in the country. Hay was a bountiful crop and is good and cheap. Young hogs can scarcely be gotten at any price, and feeding cattle without hogs to run after them is a new experience to Missouri feeders. It means that in order to get the full benefit of their feed they will have to grind very bushel of corn that goes into their cattle. This means an additional expense and a lot of bother in feeding. Feeders are not looking for cheap feed within the next year. Neither are they looking for cheap pork. They figure that by buying young cattle and roughing them through the winter at practically no cost they will make more money than by feeding them now. By spring there will be another crop of pigs, and young hogs can be gotten to swell the profit on corn."

Special Territory Quarantine.

By an order just issued by the bureau of animal industry, a large territory in Oklahoma heretofore above the general quarantine line has been placed under special quarantine. Cattle cannot leave it except for immediate slaughter unless they have been inspected by an agent of the bureau of animal industry and found free from ticks. Certificates of inspection from the Oklahoma live stock board are to no avail. By this order the following counties, which were above the quarantine line, are placed under special quarantine: Day, Dewey, Noble, Blaine, Roger Mills, Custer, Canadian, Washita and Greer, and about one-half of Logan, Oklahoma and Cleveland counties and half of the Ponca and Otoe reservations. This action was taken by the bureau of animal industry because of the numerous cases of infection which have been traced to cattle originating in this part of the territory.

America's Famous Beauties.
Look with horror on Skin Eruptions, Blisters, Sores, Pimples. They don't have them nor will any one, who uses Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It glorifies the face. Eczema or Salt Rheum vanish before it. It cures sore lips, chapped hands, chilblains. Infalible for Piles. 25c at J. W. Harris's drug store.

Dickens' Apology.

Mrs. Alice Meynell talked to the Contemporary Club in London a week ago, on Dickens, and told how years after the "Pickwick Papers" he met an attractive young woman named Weller who upbraided him for having "brought her name into disrepute"—a rather odd remark, by the way. But the next day she got from Mr. Dickens these verses:

I put 'n a book once, by hook or by crook,
The whole race, as I thought of a feller,
Who happily pleased the town's taste, much diseased,
And the name of this person was Weller.
But I found to my cost that one Weller I'd lost;
Cruel destiny so to arrange it,
I love her dear name, which has won me some fame,
But great heavens! how gladly I'd change it.

BEEF SUPPLY DECREASING.

Two Many She Cattle are Being Slaughtered—A Shortage Will Result.

The available beef supply west of the Mississippi-Missouri river is gradually and persistently decreasing. Look at the following facts on them and figure a bit. The calves of 1900 furnished the two year old beefs of this year. The livestock census shows that in 1900 the visible supply of steers two years old and upwards, west of the above waterline, was 4,730,000 head. On the basis of the census the supply for 1902 is 4,750,000 head. In the territory named, including all of the Dakotas, there were shown to be 6,616,000 calves, 8,446,000 yearling heifers, 2,732,000 steers, two year old, 2,058,000 steers, three years old and over and 9,180,000 beef cows. The 4,354,000 milch cows are not pertinent. The livestock experience is that there are killed, annually, for consumption 7 per cent of the calves, 20 per cent of the yearling steers, 40 per cent of the two-year-olds and 75 per cent of the three-year-old steers. Figuring upon this basis the available supply of beef animals is short in the western country, if not in the east also. The startling feature in the late livestock census in the disclosure that to supply, evidently, the increasing demand for beef we are killing too large a per cent of our female cattle—killing them at a faster rate than we are producing them. In killing the source of supply a serious condition is being created. It should be remedied, if possible.—National Provisioner.

Cattle Situation.

The National Stockman and Farmer looks at the situation as follows: Cattle feeders are confronted with a hard problem this year. With an abundant corn crop which they wish and ought to convert into beef and pork they find feeding cattle far higher than the probable future of the market will justify. Good but not fancy feeders are costing $5 per cwt. or more in the feed lots

ISHAM WRIGHT & SON.

Preference for Carbolic Acid.

"Have you ever noticed how many suicides use carbolic acid?" asked a druggist the other day "Without having any actual data on the subject, I should say that fully one-third, perhaps a half, use that means of exit. It is something I could never understand because there are so many more comfortable ways of doing it. There could not possibly be a more agonizing death than carbolic acid produces. The corrosive fluids burn the mouth, tongue and throat, then passes into the stomach and must feel like so much hot lead. It doesn't last long though, but until death comes the victim must suffer unknown agony."

For the first time in the parliamentary history of Italy an avowed anarchist, Pietro Calcagno, is a candidate for a seat in the chamber of deputies. He lives on a small island in the Mediterranean and must not leave there without government consent. Signor Calcagno has been imprisoned several times because of his anarchistic utterances, was released only a short time ago on account of ill health and has fled to this country and to England more than once to escape the police.

Youthful Depravity.

A remarkable instance of youthful depravity is reported from Birmingham, N. Y., where some boys in the gallery of a theater unscrewed a chandelier so that it crashed into the orchestra. Fortunately, it injured no one, but the boys confessed that they had planned to cause a panic, partly for the sake of witnessing the spectacle and partly for the loot they expected to secure after it was over.
